Section 133-50(a) of the Land Development establishes review criteria for sea level rise and resiliency that must be considered as part of the review process for board orders. The following is an analysis of the request based upon these criteria:

Not Applicable
- (5) The project applicant shall consider the adopted sea level rise projections in the Southeast Florida Regional Climate Action Plan, as may be revised from time-to-time by the Southeast Florida Regional Climate Change Compact. The applicant shall also specifically study the land elevation of the subject property and the elevation of surrounding properties.

PRACTICAL DIFFICULTY AND HARDSHIP CRITERIA

The applicant has submitted plans and documents with the application that satisfy Article 1, Section 2 of the Related Special Acts, allowing the granting of a variance if the Board finds that practical difficulties exist with respect to implementing the proposed project at the subject property.

The applicant has submitted plans and documents with the application that also indicate the following, as they relate to the requirements of Section 118-353(d), Miami Beach City Code:

- That special conditions and circumstances exist which are peculiar to the land, structure, or building involved and which are not applicable to other lands, structures, or buildings in the same zoning district;
- That the special conditions and circumstances do not result from the action of the applicant;
- That granting the variance requested will not confer on the applicant any special privilege that is denied by this Ordinance to other lands, buildings, or structures in the same zoning district;
- That literal interpretation of the provisions of this Ordinance would deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other properties in the same zoning district under the terms of this Ordinance and would work unnecessary and undue hardship on the applicant;
- That the variance granted is the minimum variance that will make possible the reasonable use of the land, building or structure;
- That the granting of the variance will be in harmony with the general intent and purpose of this Ordinance and that such variance will not be injurious to the area involved or otherwise detrimental to the public welfare; and
- That the granting of this request is consistent with the comprehensive plan and does not reduce the levels of service as set forth in the plan.
- The granting of the variance will result in a structure and site that complies with the sea level rise and resiliency review criteria in chapter 133, article II, as applicable.

VARIANCE ANALYSIS

The applicant is requesting the following variance:

1. A variance to reduce by 1'-2" (1.16') the minimum required side interior setback for central air conditioning equipment of 5'-0" in order retain six existing air conditioning units and associated concrete slabs at a minimum setback of 3'-10" (3.84') from the south property line. Variance requested from:

Sec. 142-1132. Allowable encroachments within required yards for districts other than single-family districts.

The following regulations shall apply to allowable encroachments in all districts except single-family residential districts, unless otherwise specified in this Code.

(f) Central air conditioners, emergency generators, swimming pool equipment, and other mechanical equipment. Accessory central air conditioners, generators, swimming pool equipment, and any other mechanical equipment, including attached screening elements, may occupy a required side or rear yard, in townhome or in the RM-1 residential multifamily low intensity districts only, provided that:

(1) They are not closer than five feet to a rear or interior side lot line or ten feet to a side lot line facing a street.

The subject buildings, originally known as the Pent House Court Apartments, were constructed in 1934 and designed by Martin L. Hampton in the Mediterranean Revival/Art Deco Transitional style of architecture. The two mirror image buildings are arranged around a central courtyard through which all of the residential units are accessed. Additionally, the lushly planted courtyard features a number of highly significant original architectural details including built-in planters and a decorative archway at the rear.

The applicant, the condominium association, is currently requesting a variance to retain six air conditioning units and associated concrete slabs that are located at various setbacks along the south side of the southern building, the smallest of which is 3'-10" from the south property line. Staff has been unable to determine when the air conditioning equipment was installed in this area; however, staff believes the units were likely installed when the building was converted to a condominium in 2005.

Staff would note that air conditioning equipment is permitted to be located within this required side yard if it has a minimum setback of 5'-0". The existing Contributing building has a non-conforming side setback of 6'-9" where a minimum of 10'-0" setback is required based upon current regulations. Although one option would be to relocate the equipment within the courtyard, staff believes this would have an extremely adverse impact on the historic character of the property.

Based on the retention of the existing Contributing buildings including the non-conforming setbacks, staff finds that the variance request satisfies the practical difficulties criteria and would note that the location of the units will not have any adverse impact on the existing site or surrounding historic district and will not be visible from Pennsylvania Avenue. As such, staff recommends that application be approved as noted below.

RECOMMENDATION

In view of the foregoing analysis, staff recommends the application, be approved subject to the conditions enumerated in the attached draft Order.

1. Substantial modifications to the plans submitted and approved as part of the application, as determined by the Planning Director or designee, may require the applicant to return to the Board for approval of the modified plans, even if the modifications do not affect variances approved by the Board.
